County Treasurer Baker Uses His Pistol

With Good Effect.

BAKERSFIELD, December 17th.—T. A. Baker, the County Treasurer, was attacked by five or six strange men near his residence about 7 o'clock this evening, evidently with intent to rob him or some other evil intent. rob him or some other evil intent.

One of the party got close up and put his arm round Baker's neck. The others closed in and commenced to handle him roughly.

Baker drew his pistol and shot twice, mortally wounding one of them, who has given his name as James McQuade.

Three others were captured and are in jail, but they refuse to give any account of themselves. They are all strangers here and very rough looking men. Baker's pistol was taken from him and fired at him, the ball grazing the back of his head.

The town is overrun by strange men and vagrants, and the citizens as well as the old Vigilance Committee will meet to-night to take steps to rid the community of them.

OVER THE BORDER. Budget of News Items From Victoria

B. C.

VICTORIA (B. C.), December 17th.—The British bark Mennock cleared to-day for I ondon, England, with a cargo of 30,832 cases of salmen.

A family named Young lost their youngest daughter under painful circumstances Monday. Mrs. Young had poured a boiler of scalding water into a tub on the floor preparatory to washing clothes, when the child, stepping backward, stumbled and fell into the tub. The baby was so severely scalded that she died a few minutes after the accident.

Recent heavy rains on Vancouver Island have caused the low-lying lands in the neighborhood of Cowichan to be flooded, and yesterday a train coming to Victoria from Nanaimo had to travel more than two miles in over two feet of water. The Indians in the vicinity have had to break up camp and are traveling around the submerged district in canoes.

It is still raining heavily in the neighborhood of Cowichan, and fears are entertained that if the water rises much higher a number of barns and farm-houses will be swept away.

A big boom of logs-over 7,000,000 feet—being driven down the Cowichan river, has drifted out of the proper channel and many will be lost.

A bridge crossing the Cowichan river was

A bridge crossing the Cowichan river was carried away by the flood yesterday morning.

The German schooner Adele, which returned yesterday from a cruise to the Behring Sea and a raid upon the Island of St. Paul, has been seized by the Collector of Customs on two charges. First—For failing to enter at the Custom-house, the fine for which is $400, with $100 costs. The second charge is false clearance. When Captain Hansen left Victoria last September he cleared for Yokohama, but instead touched at St. Paul Island. The penalty for this is also $400.

Recent developments in the case indicate that Hamms nd is the victim of conspiracy, of which Alexander Todhunter is at the head. Todhunter is supposed to be an English detective, and failing to get Hammond on British soil, charged him with stealing a seal-skin sacque from Mrs. Augusta Simons, whom Todhunter induced to visit Hammond's saleon.

Hammond claims that there is $250,000 at his disposal on deposit at the Bank of California and other banks. The amount has been thus placed by wealthy Englishmen as hush money. Hammond has been in Seattle more than a year, and has abundant means. He refuses to talk but admits having threatened to return to London. He says parties there are trying to prevent his return, and in order to do so had Todhunter trump up the charge against him. He expects to get a new trial and says he will return to London and take the consequences, but refuses to betrax men who natronized his return to London and take the consequences, but refuses to betray men who patronized his

RECOVERING THE BOOTY.

Muckle Bros. Found. St. Helen (Or.), December 17th.—The excite ment caused by the robbery of the safe of duckle Bros. still continues. On examining the bank of the river to-day it was found that a boat had recently been pushed off, apparently in a hasty manner, and shortly after an empty money sack, which had been taken from the safe was washed ashore.

The sheriff and a party of men started down the river in pursuit and when they arrived at Kalama, about twelve miles below St. Helen, they learned that a fisherman had found the boat that had been taken from there upside down near the bank and all the notes and warrants under the boat. Finding nothing more they returned home and delivered the papers to Muckle Bros. he bank of the river to-day it was found that

STEAMER BURNED. No Fatalities.

SEATTLE (Wash.), December 17th.—The steamer Ferndale was burned to the water's edge Mon-day night off the south shore of Hope Island, in Puget Sound.
The Ferndale had taken on 500 pounds of lime at Roche Harbor, and some hay and grain and a valuable horse at other points on the island, and left San Juan Monday evening for Port Townsend. After passing Smith Island she met a very heavy sea and soon found it too rough to proceed. The Supreme Court's Opinion of Contra Costa Ordinance. SAN FRANCISCO, December 17th .- An opinion SAN FRANCISCO, December 17th.—An opinion of great interest to the farming element of the State was filed to-day by the Supreme Court in the case of Benjamin Hodges on habeas corpus. The petitioner, a rancher of Contra Costa county, was convicted of misdemeanor for violating the ordinance of the Board of Supervisors which requires owners and occupants of land within the county to exterminate and destroy ground squirrels on their respective lands and thereafter to keep their lands free therefrom.

The opinion said: "We know of no law which can be held to authorize a Board of Supervisors to enact such an ordinance. We are quite clear that it cannot be enforced, for the reason that it is unreasonable and burdensome in the externe." The petitioner was accordingly ordered discharged from custody.

fignal Service Report. San Francisco, December 17th.—The cyclone of Monday is steadily developing in intensity off Vancouver Island, with a strong tendency to move southeastward. The barometer is falling rapidly in Western Washington, Western Oregon and on the northwest coast of California. A heavy cloud formation prevails throughout California, Nevada, Oregon and Washington and the wind has shifted to southerly in all districts except Southern California. Threatening weather is generally reported north of the fortieth parallel. If the storm makes a decided move to the southeastward during the night and to-morrow morning light rains will fall during Thursday in Northern California, turning to snow in the mountains

For the Third Time. BAKERSFIELD, December 17th.—The third trial of W. C. Elliott for murder, committed in inyo county in April, 1888, was commenced here to-day, after nine days were consumed in obtaining a jury. Sixty-five witnesses from Inyo are in attendance. Eliott was tried and convicted of murder in Inyo county. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court, a trial was ordered and a change of venue to this county obtained. He was tried here in June last and the jury failed to agree. The present trial is expected to last till Christmas.

Fatal Wild Parsnips. STOCKTON, December 17th.—The body of Juan Mendoza, a Portuguese laborer, was brought from the Hopkins place on Staten Island to this city to-day. Mendoza died there in great agony on Monday evening, it is alleged from eating wild parsnips. An autopsy and inquest will be held by Coroner Bede this evening. Mendoza lived at Livermore, where he was a member of the A. O. U. W. lodge.

FANNIE B. WARD IN BRAZIL. She Predicts That the New Republic Will Die Young.

Fannie B. Ward, the talented and fearess correspondent of the RECORD UNION, who is traveling over South America and urnishing our readers with entertaining and reliable information in regard to the countries south of us, in a private letter to the managers of this paper, dated Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, November 11th, says, among ther things :

Now and then a copy of the RECORD-JNION reaches us in our wanderings, and always affords us both a great deal of pleasure. You remember, perhaps, that one of my daughters (Fannie Jr.), accompanies me on this journey as my stenographer. There have been some breaks in the series of the South American letters, but only when we found ourselves in out-of-the-way places, where there were absolutely no postal facilities. For example, we have crossed the Andes several times, you know, each time nearly living in our saddles from three to five weeks, and hardly encountering a house (except the Government tampas), much less a postoffice.

Our recent journey through Smith's

Channel and the Straits of Magellan included a fortnight's cruise among the islands of the Terra del Fuego group, and off the western coast of what used to be Patagonia; besides a stop at Punta Arenas, the most southerly town on the globe, and a run to the Falkland Islands. Then we had a long journey up the Rio de la Plata, the Parana and Paraguay rivers; another into the interior of the Argentine Republic, to visit the ostric's and sheep farms and cattle ranges; and to Ascencion, the Capital of Paraguay. And we are soon to make another, longer trip, to the far regions of the upper Amazons. I will do my best, however, toward sending the MSS. as regularly as possible. When they are slow in coming, or don't come at all, you may be reasonably certain that it is because we are "stuck"—temporarily—in some benighted section from which we will emerge in good time. I can safely promise that the letters will increase in interest from now on, as I have at last laboriously waded through the more prosy parts, not feeling justified in omitting them, though conscious that the manuscripts were sometimes dull and not up to the mark. There is little yellow fever yet in Rio, but the weather is excessively hot. Yesterday, after a regular scorcher, Fannie and I went out for a ride, between four and six o'clcck; and in that less than two hours' time we

Chicago, December 17th.—No news has thus far been received at any army headquarters in this city in regard to the reported fight between the United States soldiers and Iudians near Rapid City, S. D., yesterday.

A second report of the fight, received at Denver, says that the soldiers were outnumbered by their dusky foes and amazed at the effectiveness of the rain of lead that was poured forth from their weapons, but not for a moment did they think of retreat, but stood facing the savages determined to win or be completely anni-City Fight. they think of retreat, but stood facing the savages determined to win or be completely annihilated. For a long time the odds seemed to favor the redskins, but the superior discipline of the cavalry at last began to tell, and the Indians, losing their nerve at seeing their comrades mowed down in great numbers, finally broke and ran from the field, their rout being complete. The troops were not slow to follow up their sdyantage and they chased the retreating enemy several miles and sent many a bullet after the fleeling savages, not a few of which caused the reskins they hit to join their late chief in the happy hunting grounds.

PEACEABLE MEANS EXHAUSTED. Washington, December 17th.—General Schofield this morning received a telegram from General Miles, dated Long Pine, N. b., December 16th, as follows: "General Brooze reports Two Strike and about eight hundred Indians now camped at Pine Ridge Agency, and these, with other Indians at Pine Ridge and Rosebud, are all that can be drawn out of the disaffected camp. The others are defiant and hostile, and are determined to go to war, and he has no hope that any o.her effort at pacification would be successful. He estimates the number of men in the hostile camp in the Bad Lands at 50. General Rugger's estimate represents 200 men on the Cheyenne river and 300 at Standing Rock Reservation, who would have been liable to leave before the death of Sitting Bull, making in all 750 men. Every possible means are exhausted to retain and restrain friendly Indians on the reservation. The 16,000 Sioux who have been restrained and professed loyalty should have positive assurance, with the least possible delay, that the Government will perform and fulfill its treaty obligations." ANOTHER SUSPENSION. The Banking House of Kean & Co., of

The Banking House of Kean & Co., of Chicago, Closes Its Doors.

Chicago, December 17th.—The private banking house of S. A. Kesn & Co., one of the oldest in Chicago, will not open its doors to-morrow.

Mr. Kean made a statement to the press to night announcing the suspension. He declined to estimate the liabilities or assets, but was of the opinion that every claim would be paid in full. They have been negotiating sometime, he said, for a reorganization either as a state or National Bank, and expected to reorganize without stopping business. It had been found, however, that it would be imposs ble in a short time to raise the necessary funds to continue business with safety pending reorganization. It was thereupon deemed advisable to accept the next wisest course—suspension.

"Our business," continued Kean, "has grown too rapidly in the last year or two for our capital, and the stringency in the money market made it impossible for us to turn our securities again at once after we had loaned money on them. Our nominal capital was $100,000, but in the reorganization it would be half a million.

The firm, which was formerly known as Preston, Kean & Co., has done a large business in floating city, county and pub'ic improvement bonds issued in the West. These, when not otherwise disposed of, would be pledged to banks on call loans. A New York and other Eastern points these loans had recently been called on heavily, and the drain on the house apparently reached the limit todas. Another factor was the circumstance that the demand for securities of comparatively newly settled districts, such as were largely dealt in by Kean & Co., had fallen off to a considerable extent. The deposits in the institution recently aggregated between $600,000 and $700,000.

Wide celebrity was given to the bank some years ago by the extraordinary incidents following the defalcation of its Cashier (Kerr) who was traced to and brought back from Peru, and after a long legal fight incarcerated in Johet. Chicago, Closes Its Doors.

to supply guns required for armament on that coast.

Secretary Proctor further says that it appears from the report that there is as yet no plant ready on the Pacific coast equal to the manufacture of large gun forgings, but the capital seems ready to take hold and has already begun to locate itself with this object in view at more than one point. The Commissioners appointed by the President consisted of three officers of the army, and they were directed to inquire into the facilities for producing steel lorgings for high-power guns on the Pacific coast and in the vicinity of the Indianapolis Arsenal, Rock Island Arsenal and some point near the Gulf coast, and the advisability of erecting gun factories for the assembling of guns for fortification purposes.

Kegarding the Watervliet Factory, the report states that it is believed that the limit of the present capacity and time required to complete armament, either with existing facilities or with those which would be added by the completion of the Watervliet Factory, is too long. A factory should be located on the Pacific coast to furnish guns required for its defense, but the Board does not consider it advisable at this time to recommend a third factory at the Rock Island Arsenal, at Indianapolis, er on or near the Gulf coast.

The museum had been laboriously collected. It was a potential agent for enlightening the Eastern visitor concerning California's natural resources and climatic advantages. The State Board is not dismayed by its loss. It has taken larger, better and more centrally-located rooms in San Franciseo, and proposes to renew its museum. It cannot do so unless it has more than the sympathetic interest of the people. Sympathy will not roll a wheel, convince an inquirer or advertise the resources of the State.

What is needed is more helpful aid than commiseration. The people must send new exhibits to the Board's museum. A good many have done so already, but not a tenth have even promised, who ought to be up and doing in this matter. What we should all do is to make this a personal concern. Each individual should feel that something is incumbent upon him in the restoration of the museum. No matter if ten thousand exhibits are forwarded, or twenty thousand, they can be used to advantage.

Of course, it would be wise to notify the Board in every case of what it is proposed to send, that it may not be put to cost and trouble in receiving articles unfit or too many duplicates. The new collection cannot be made complete for several months, because the seasons must come and go, in order to secure examples of the products in each. But the people should take thought concerning the matter now Woods, minerals, preserved products, textile staples and some other articles can be forwarded now as well as later.

The State Board of Trade, through its intelligent method of advertising California; by the confidence it has inspired; by the aid given by its famous "California on Wheels;" by its authenticated literature upon California; by its counselings, debates, advice and open house, has done more to bring California into favorable notice in the last two years, than all the efforts put forth for a decade pretainty of the presents own it to themselves.

This season finds us with the largest assortment of Fine Umbrellas that we ever carried. The range of choice is large, there being dozens of styles, with gold, oxidized silver and bone handles, while there are also plenty of showy handles in the less expensive grades. We have them in lengths and designs suitable for both ladies and gentlemen.

Fine Fans.

No lady was ever known to be otherwise than pleased with the gift of a beautiful Fan. It's a feminine hobby, universal with the sex from the realms of the Flowery Kingdom to the high Courts of Europe. It is fitting that Fans should come from both hemispheres, and our stock of them is so large that the cosmopolitan tastes of California find nothing wanting. We have very choice goods for the Holidays, and would be pleased to have everyone inspect them.

Antone Vallas' Conspiracy Against His Stepdaughter Fails-The Girl to Have a Good Bome.

Georgiana Hendricks, the young girl accused by her stepfather, Antone Vallas, of being a vagrant, was discharged in the Police Court yesterday. City Attorney Hart made the motion to dismiss the case, and took occasion to express his opinion of the conduct of Vallas. When the latter swore to the complete the complete the policy of the conduct of Vallas. When the latter swore to the complete the complete the policy of swore to the complaint he claimed to know a Photograph Taken," Nellie Beach, Clara that the girl associated with lewd women, Meyers, Bert Downer and Percy McCoy; that the girl associated with lewd women, closing song, "Merry Christmas. and stated that his object was to keep her away from such company. Since procur ing the warrant he has not made his appearance in the Police Court, though the case was called twice.

Mr. Hart remarked that he did not like the conduct of Vallas, and thought he had Tuesday night when they saw the flash of other motives than rescuing the girl from a pistol a few blocks away, down on L bad company. The latter allegation in the street. The officers took the middle of the complaint was, he believed, untrue, as all street and ran down to Seventh, but could of the neighbors of Miss Hendricks spoke find no person who was able to explain the of her as a modest and quiet girl.

Hiram Johnson said he had been retained as counsel by the girl's guardian, S W. Haynie, and he knew there was nothing in the charge made against her. He could produce evidence to show that Vallss' object was to get control of some building and loan stock and a small piece of real estate which the girl's mother had left her. The prosecution was a malicious one, and he could show that within the past month Vallas had attempted to abduct the defendant.

dustrious, well-behaved young person, against whom not a word could be said.

Miss Hendricks herself called upon him and related her trouble—how she was being hounded by the man Vallas, and said she wished to have some good person act as her guardian. He (Mr. Haynie) had been recommended to her, and she desired him to act as neck. him to act as such.

Having satisfied himself that the young girl's story was true, he promptly assumed the responsibility. Mr. Haynie stated that Miss Hendricks would henceforth have a good home, as she would be adopted into the family of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Lufkin, of Walnut Grove, old and well-known residents of this county.

It would seem that there should be some way in which the law could be made to reach and punish the man who sought to blast this young girl's character and have her cast into jail as a vagrant. An attempt to do great bodily injury to a person is a punishable offense, but here is a case wherein it appears that a most malicious attempt the service of the most attractive in the city, will be erected at Fourth and K streets, on the attempt was made to do irreparable injury to a younggirl's character and reputationone from which she could never have hoped to recover—and this, too, by one who should be the first to protect her from

COWNIE'S WATCH.

The Victim of Robber Shinn is Glad to Recover His Property. John Cownie, Jr., who was with the man Davis when the latter was robbed near the despoiled of a watch and some money, writes as follows to Chief of Police Drew, on havi been informed of the arrest and confession of the robbers, and of Nelson's discharge. It will be seen that, while Cownie does not doubt that Nelson was innocent of the crime, he still cannot under-stand how the facts pointed so strongly to him as the guilty party:

stand how the facts pointed so strongly to him as the guilty parly:

DES Moines, lowa, December Sth.

Warren F. Drew, Chief of Police, Sacramento, Cal.—Dear Sie: Your kind favor of the 23d ultimo duly received. Absence from home has prevented an earlier reply. Please forward the watch to me by express. There was also a silver chain attached at the time of the robbery. The confession, I presume, is all right, but there are a few discrepancies. For instance, the robber "holding the horse." This he did not do. But, in the main, it is correct. Mr. Davis was very excited, and emptied his pockets of everything. I hesitated somewhat, and it was only the clicking of the revolver that brought me to the point of delivering.

While I am much pleased at the thought of recovering my watch—not so much on account of its value, as of associations connected with it—still the pain that it brings, that an innocent person has suffered, robs me entirely of the pleasure I would have felt. I was positive of that voice, stature, etc. I proposed to Mr. Nelson's attorney to talk with the prisoner privately, that I might better contrast his voice, appearance, etc., but this was not acquiesced in. I would like to see this man Shinn, and know how he simulated that voice and note his stature, the shape of his head, etc. Also, how it was that Mr. Nelson was nearly two hours in going from the saloon to the dairy, as the men at the saloon testified and those at the dairy informed me of the time of his arrival.

Sincerely thanking you for the interest you have taken in the case, and also all the authorities for the zeal displayed in behalf of a stranger, I can and will bear testimony that Sacramento will be peculiarly fortunate if she can always command the services of such painstaking and trustworthy officials. Sincerely yours, John Cownie, Jr.

Harbor Commissioners' Report. The biennial report of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners for San Diego Bay was issued yesterday by the State Printer. The Commissioners recommend that an appropriation of $195,000 be made by the Legislature for the construction of a sea-wall and the building of new wharves. Work on the report of the Directors of the California Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institution at Berkeley was completed yesterday in the State printing department. The statistics show that not one death occurred in the institution during the past two years.

Supposed to Have Been Stolen. Officer Simmons arrested a man last evening who was endeavoring to sell a valuable new overcoat to a second-hand dealer. The coat is probably worth $30 or $40, and is marked "Brown Bros. & Co., San Francisco." The arrested party gave the name of John Williams, and claimed to have been given the coat. The owner can recover the property by calling at the Petitions in Probate.

James R. Foster has applied to the Superior Court for letters of administration on the estate of Owen Glinn, deceased. The estate is of only nominal value. Hearing of the petition has been set for the 26th. Elizabeth J. Gonnet, widow of Adrian J. Gonnet, deceased, has also filed a petition for letters on the latter's estate, which is valued at $200. The petition will be heard on Friday, January 2d.

Mr. Haggerty Was Satisfied. Wally Nolan, Mike Gorman and John Robinson were discharged in the Police Court yesterday, at the request of the prosecuting witness, one Haggerty. The de-fendants attacked his store several nights ago and smashed things generally. Mr. Haggerty stated that they had paid for all the damage done, and he was willing that the case be dismissed.

Religious Incorporation. Articles of incorporation of the Union Congregation of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church of Mountain View, California, were filed in the Secretary of State's office yesterday. The Directors are J. A SUBURBAN MYSTERY.

REPORTED SHOOTING NEAR OAK PARK LAST NIGHT.

A Man Who Was Robbed Relates What He Heard Just Before He Was Help Up.

The driver of one of the Oak Park cars boarded near Oak Park by a man whose name he could not give, but whom he had known sometime, and who reported that he had just been "stood up" in that vicinity affair, with just enough of the flavor of -in fact, right near the stable at Oak Park scholarship about it to make the social re-by three footpads.

Under a threat of being killed, he allowed them to rob him of what he had, and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a quarter of a dollar and that was only a dollar and that that was only a quarter of a dollar and a plug of tobacco.

to get some grapes, and was on his way across the fields toward Oak Park, when he heard five or six shots in quick succession not far away. Immediately following the shots he heard some one cry out:

"My God! You've shot me!"

He continued on his way, and on reaching the terminus of the street railway he necountered the three men referred to the street railway he incountered the three men referred to the street railway he necountered the three men referred to the street railway he incountered the three men referred to the street railway he incountered the three men referred to the street railway he incountered the three men referred to the street railway he incountered the three men referred to the street railway he incountered the three men referred to the street railway he incountered the three men referred to the programme, and was a deeply thoughtful essay, enlivened by wit and finished by brilliancy of imagery and polished diction. who proceeded to rob him as stated. It was quite dark, and he did not see any weapon in the hands of any of the men, but they ordered him to submit or they would kill him.

Whether the outcry heard before was made by some victim of the thugs, or by one of themselves, he could not tell, but it sounded to him as if made in earnest. Considering that scarcely a day or night passes without one or more persons being robbed, or houses or other buildings plun-dered; and in view of the small number of licemen on duty at one time (less than a nalf dozen), it would seem to be an excellent time for the citizens to organize a volunteer force of Deputy Sheriffs and sweep the city and suburbs of the gangs of foot-pads and thieves that now infest this community. There are plenty of young men who would quickly volunteer their serv-ices, and it looks as if they could find some pretty lively work to do.

That there are a number of desperate men now operating in about this city there can be no doubt. They represent all grades Herpts; examination, arithmetic; recitaof criminals, from the commonest sneak thief to the foodpad and highway robber, who would not hesitate to kill in order to get money. This was shown by the attack on young Mandeville the other evening on a thickly inhabited street, and at an early There are thefts committed daily and

The men who commit this class of thefts are of the "low down" order of tramps, whose first thought is for their bodily comfort. But there are others more desperate and even the common tramp becomes bolder as he succeeds in his petty larcenies. Something should be done to rid the city and suburbs of these scoundrels. The first step in that direction should be to revoke the licenses of the numerous dives about terday afternoon over their rival claims to town that harbor many of the thieves, but that appears to be asking too much, judging from past experience.

ANOTHER CASE OF ROBBERY. On Tuesday night a gentlemen who restopped by two men on the foot-bridge over China slough. They demanded his money, and as he did not "shell out" with the alacrity desired they set upon him, knocked him down and robbed him of beween $8 and $10.

The man showed up at the depot with various wounds about his head and face, where the ruffians had beaten him. He left for home without reporting the case to the police.

A telegram from Bakersfield will be found in the RECORD UNION'S news col-umns this morning, stating that County Treasurer Baker was knocked down there last night and beaten by footpacs. The official succeeded in killing one of his assailants, and the police captured the others.

The citizens at once held a meeting and organized a vigilance committee to rid the place of tramps and thieves. Bakersfield cannot possibly be more seriously afflicted than Sacramento and some; other towns in this part of the State.

Effects of Tobacco. Mrs. Bullock, one of the National Organizers of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, delivered a lecture last evening at the Ninth-street Baptist Church, on the subject, "Save the Boys." The church was comfortably filled with listeners, among the number being several min-isters of the different religious denominations in Sacramento. Mrs. Bullock devoted about an hour's time to an argument against tobacco in every form. She said the sign often seen in front of a cigar store was that of an Indian holding a bunch of cigars in his ex-tended hand. To her the sayage seemed to say: "You destroyed us by confiscating our lands, but we leave you, as a legacy, this little weed, which will in time destroy

The use of the weed, she claimed, de raved morality and led to excess. The habit was not only practiced by boys, but of late seemed to be indulged in by young girls and ladies who moved in the most fashionable society.

The sociation has five thousand orange trees in bearing, among them a new variety of seedless oranges which are likely to prove a strong rival to the Washington Navels.

In his opening, A. J. Bruner announced that he would ask the Court to hold the defendants for trial on the testimony elicite entirely outside of the Chinese witnesses. The arguments continued until 5 o'clock in the evening, when the Court took a recess until this morning, pending the conclusion of the District Attorney's argument.

AMUSEMENTS

On Tuesday night a gentlemen who resides somewhere near Wheatland was in this city, and in going to the depot to return home by the Oregon train he was turn home by the Oregon train he was turn home by the Oregon train de Pachmann, will give an evening with Chopin. We have already given a sketch of his life and of his musical career, which has won for him the title, "The Poet of the Piano." In San Francisco his success this week was complete, all the press sounding his praise more or less. Extracts from the San Francisco Bulletin of Tuesday will indicate the judgment of San Francisco concerning Pachmann:

dicate the judgment of San Francisco concerning Pachmann:

His playing is a reveiation. It is a wonder, and what puzzles his hearers is how he obtained such perfection as a pianist.

* * * To be such a pianist as De Pachmann is one must have the soul for it. One can readily see that De Pachmann is a natural born pianist by his awkward mannerisms. The explanation is that he is so absorbed in his art as to forget everything eise while he is playing. He motions and even talks to himself as if to remark that such and such a passage was played, not only to his own satisfaction, but to that of others.

Chopin's music, whether it be a sonata, a prelude, a valse, a mazourka or a polonnaise, requires a light, airy touch combined with that of peculiar force and the most decided phases of expression and sentiment. Vladimir de Pachmann combines all these qualifications. He has the touch of a woman and the heavy stroke of a forgemaster welding a piece of iron. The first is of a delicate nature and the latter never of a pound, but a straight blow, hitting the mark with a certainty of attack and not grating, as can be accomplished by what is known as a chance blow. His execution is marvelous, every note being brought out with the greatest distinctness, and whether it be in single, double, triple or chromatic runs, it is all the same. His piano movements are all delicately shaded and his fortissimo ones as clear as the tone of a perfect bell. One beauty of his playing is the ease with which he accomplishes the most difficult runs. There is no elving pianist of the present day who can be compared to him in exemplification of the music of Chopin. He seems to be inspired with the music. It is in every vein of his body, and his fingers are the outlet of his soul's thoughts. His manipulation of the piano is the perfection of art and De Pachmann and Chopin seem to have grown together as one. Paraphrasing the Moslem adage, it may be said that "there is one Chopin, and De Pachmann is his prophet."

Referring to his peculiar mannerism, the Chronicle of Tuesday said: It has a tendency to make one laugh, but that does not seem to trouble him. We have been accustomed to sit soberly and decorously, classically, so to speak, and listen to the piano virtuoso. But bePachman encourages you to enthuse, with him, over the charming composition. At first it is distracting, but that effect wears off, and one gradually yields to the pianist's undoubted fascination.

PARNELL. The Injury to His Eyes May Result Very

Seriousiy. DUBLIN, December 17th. — Though Parnell suffered intense pain from the effects of the itme thrown in his eyes yesterday, he was able at midnight to address from the window of the Victoria Hotel at Kilkenny a large crowd. During the address his face was covered with bandages. He detailed the events of the day, and the crowd became exasperated at the manner in which he had been treated, and many threats of vengeat ce were made.

and the clowd became exasperated at the manner in which he had been treated, and many threats of vengeat ce were made.

This morning Parnell's breakfast was served in bed. A close examination of his eyes revealed the fact that his eight is not injured. The surgeon declares, however, that inflammation may set in. He ordered Parnell to keep his eyes closed, and that hot water foments be constantly applied.

It was aunounced this afternoon that the surgeon attending Parnell fears the injuries to his eyes may result in serious consequences. He has given orders that for the present his patient shall remain in doors.

Hennessy has expressed to the committee having the campaign of his opponent, Vincent Scully, in charge, his regret for the attack made upon Parnell yesterdy.

In a published interview, Maurice Healy is represented as saying that assurance can be given the public that no settlement of the political crisis is possible by arbitration. The contest, he said, will be fought to the bitter end. Notwittstanding the injunction issued against Suppressed United Ireland, the paper again appeared Hereafter the paper will be entitled Insuppressible United Ireland.

Parnell's appear.

PARNELL'S APPEAL.

PARNELL'S APPEAL.

DUBLIN, December 17th.—Parnell has issued a strong appeal to the Hillsdale men, calling on them not to submit to English dietation. He says in part: "Will you give up you chief to the Sazon wolves, or will you rally around him as your fathers did around the men of '98, and shout, 'No surrender. Hurrah for Parnell, the leader of the Independent Irish party!' Gather, men of Hillside, at St. John's Well, on Sunday, around your chief, and hurl defiance at his enemies and the enemies of your race."

Parnell was interviewed with regard to charges referring to the lund of £40,600 raised several years ago for his benefit. He said he spent it smong the workmen of Wicklow, giving 250 men employment in mines and quarries, and which is likely to prove permanent. He has heard that the search for a great lode of magnetic iron has proved successful. He referred to the development of this industry and the possible development of coal and iron fields in other districts, which would give Ireland a great in ustrial future.

NEGOTIATING FOB A REUNION. NEGOTIATING FOR A REUNION.

London, December 17th,—Joseph Chamber-lain made a remarkable speech at the private Unionist caucus at Birmingham to night.

Among other things he said that within a week certain former friends in the Gladstonian party had reopened negotiations with him for a reunion, on that basis that Parnell having rendered Home Rule impossible, they saw no reason why a Liberal reunion should not be formed. He had replied that such a course was impossible, because Gladstone detailed Home kule in froit of his programme. However, recent events had opened the eyes of the Gladstonian moderates who might co-operate with the

CORK CONVENTION.

Convention assembled here to day. The hall in which the convention was held was crowded with delegates and spectators. The name of Parnell was greeted with cheers by the delegates, but the crowd groaned at it.

The Chairman read a telegram from Patrick Egan, giving instructions for the transfer of his shares of United Ireland stock to McCarthy. McCarthy in an address declared that if the Irish party wanted authority or sanction for what they had done, the magnificent gathering there assembled gave it to them. After such a meeting they would be entitled to speak in the name of the Irish people, and they would have still a better right so for expect of the the letter. CORK CONVENTION. still a better right so to speak after the election in Kilkenny.
A resolution passed expressing approval of McCarthy's course.

RUIN PREDICTED. NEW YORK, December 17th. - Dillon and New York, December 17th. — Dillon and O'Connor sent a cablegram to McCarthy to-day expressing the deepest regret at the injury to Parnell, and stating that language and acts of violence on both sides will ruin the Irish cause in the eyes of Americans, and fill the Irish people here with despair. O'Connor, in an interview, said that if Parnell kept on in his present stand, even if the election was lost at Kilkenny, the cause would be irretrievably ruined. GLADSTONE DISCOURAGED.

DON, De ember 17th.—Gladstone takes a gloomy view of the future of his party. "This Parnell business has killed us, I fear," he said to a correspondent. "Nothing can wipe out of the public mind the fact that we have been holding up Parnell for admiration, as a patriot, for five years, and now we are obliged to call him a rescal and he abuse us as by received. him a rascal, and he abuses us as hypocrites, and tells all the world our Home Rule is a rank imposture. How can we hope to get over such a scandal?" Mr. Gladstone is suffering from cold, and has not been present in the church at Hawarden since Saturday.

Gouffe's Murderers. Paris, December 17th -The trial of Michel

PARIS, December 17th —The trial of Michel Eyraud and his former mistress, Gabrielle Bompard, for the murder of the Notary Gouffe, was continued to-day. Eyraud persisted in his statement that Gabrielle Bompard conceived the details of the crime, and that she passed the noose sround the victim's neck while the latter was fondling her at her home. Gabrielle Bompard denies all Eyraug's statements, and claims that the part she took in the crime was due to the influence exerted over her by hyraud. swept Over a Precipice. PARIS, December 16th.—Seven Alpine Chaseurs and an officer, who were working at the ew forties on the summit of Mount Sacharal, between La Brega and Revire, were swept by a sudden blast over the precipice into the abyss. Five of the men and officers fell 2,500 feet. The bodies were frightfully mangled. Two of them managed to cling to the rocks and they were Three pries's, while crossing a frozen lake ear Greneble, broke through the ice and were Steamship Subsidy. LONDON December 17th.-The Agents-General of Australasia had an interview with Sir Charles
